To whom it may concern:

Hello my name is Greg Gordon I reside in Los Cabos, Mexico and I am the director of operations for Finton Construction Mexico here in San Jose Del Cabo, BCS, Mexico.

We are currently building a large custom beach front Hacienda in El Dorado beach and golf club resort in San Jose Del Cabo.

We are using Roeder Doors and windows from Germany for all of our exterior units. This includes many extremely large sliding units that exceed most all other doors in this community. They are Bronze clad Mahogany units with special mechanical sliding and glazing systems we were unable to find to be comparable in any other product.

Our representative, architectural support and production expeditor is James Sarna. James has been completely immersed as the hands on product support from the beginning of bidding, shop drawings and to the ultimate successful delivery and installation of all product. James along with 2 other engineers from the German Roeder team arrived in Cabo with the product and certified installers to assure that all product was intact and installation technicians had complete control of all means and methods for the highest quality installation.

I am very happy to say that myself along with the project architects and homeowners are extremely satisfied with the final results of the most beautiful, user friendly and architecturally correct doors and windows I have ever worked with and look forward to the next project in the near future to have the opportunity to work with Roeder and James Sarna again.
